REMEMBRANCE DAY

AN ECUMENICAL SERVICE

LOYOLA CHAPEL

Remembrance: A time to pause and especially remember those who have died since last year. There are faculty, staff, and students no longer with us in this university. It is good to prayerfully remember them.

Remembrance Day: Is a special time to remember all those who died in the struggle for peace. There is nothing sadder than death during war time - large or small. Countless victims are so often caught up in a struggle that has not been of their making. So, today we remember them all. The following list may not be complete, but all touched by death in the community will be remembered.
